MA YONGFENG / EVERYTHING THAT RISES MUST CONVERGE

Curated by Alessandro Rolandi

Ma Yongfeng is an artist, filmmaker and curator based in Berlin. His work spans video, film, conceptual art, socially-engaged practices and political art, while he has overlapped, superimposed, and entwined the identities of artist and curator to initiate a series of award-winning art projects. His recent work has focused more on political video and film, site-specific intervention and situation. Several projects contain flexible, guerrilla and immaterial social participation. His politically-engaged tactics include introducing new concepts and methodologies into existing mechanisms through social practices and relational resistance.
